UCI Dedicated
By Johnson

By CHARLES H. LOOS
Staff Education Writer

The campus of the University of California, Irvine, was just another construction site today.

Workers returned to the more mundane tasks of pouring concrete and pounding nails. Others folded up chairs, a tent and bunting, the remains of Saturday's dedication ceremonies.

And Lyndon B. Johnson was back at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave., 3,000 miles from the dusty pasture where he gave the ninth campus of the Western world's largest university an unprecedented presidential send-off.

University officials were being contratulated today, deservedly, for an impressive and smooth show.

ARRIVAL

It was 12:20 p.m. Saturday when the red, white and blue rotors of the presidential helicopter stopped whirling and the President stepped onto the Irvine campus.

The reception accorded him by a crowd of 12,000 to 15,000 was warm and friendly, if not overwhelming. He was, after all, a Democratic office holder in Republican Orange County.

The President, who observers said later was impressed by California's commitment to education, spoke about education, leaving politics for Democratic fund-raising din-

SMILING PRESIDENT — The President is surrounded by newsmen and eager well-wishers at conclusion of UCI dedication. He left his escort, moving to bleachers to shake hands with several students in high school choir which sang for the occasion.

Johnson Outdoes Beatles at Rites

By JEROME F. COLLINS

Girlish squeals, squeaks, shrieks and some instances of near-swooning. In short, joyous, mass hysteria.

Who was responsible? The Beatles? No. Fabian? No. Mrs. Donohue's fat little boy, Troy? Guess again.

It was the President of the United States, Lyndon Baines Johnson.

The 57-year-old Chief Executive induced the emotional bingie when he strolled over to the 200-member All Orange County High School Honor face flushed, her teeth flashed, her eyes glazed and, momentarily, it looked as if she might pass out.

Photographers, facing the choir and behind the President, were making almost as much noise. "This way, Lyndon!"; "Lyndon, over here!"; "Lyndon, turn around!"

Johnson, however, was too busy to hear. Until one cameraman intoned: "Mr. President, this way please!" His big frame turned three-quarters around as cameras clicked and clattered and both his hands pumped away, grasping Newport Beach city councilmen hold a public hearing tonight prior to possible adoption of a new excise tax which would be levied against developers at a rate of $85 for each new residential unit.

No formal protests had been filed against the new tax by press time today.

Bal Island Fears New Traffic Crush

2 Trustees Cut Way Out of Jail

SANTA ANA — Two trustees cut their way out of Orange County's maximum security jail early Saturday and made their way to freedom over the roof of an adjoining church, the Sheriff's office revealed today.

William Haakma, 34, of Pacoima, serving time for non-support, and Paul N. Rossiter, 29, of Van Nuys, serving time for burglary, were still at large.

Rossiter had been scheduled to finish his sentence today, but Los Angeles police had a "hold" on him for other burglary charges. Haakma still had four months to serve.

Sometime between midnight and 7 a.m., deputies said, the men cut a hole through the wire mesh screen which covers the jail courtyard. They used a pair of pliers from the jail maintenance shop.

A 12-foot ladder, also from the shop, was then drawn

Engineers Engaged For Probe

By THOMAS MURPHINE

Directors of the Balboa Island Improvement Association today declared they have hired traffic engineers because they fear "appalling" congestion after a new Irvine shopping center is constructed.

Zoning for the shopping complex across Bayside Drive from the island bridge was approved last week by the Newport Beach City Council.

Donald Sloper, BIIA president, issued a statement today asserting that traffic congestion had often been unmanageable at the bridge entrance in the past and now the shopping center poses "a new and imposing threat to the island's limited accessibility."

TRAFFIC

He added, "Island-bound traffic eventually will merge

... in Los Angeles Saturday night.

He departed from his prepared text at one point to join university President Clark Kerr about the university's growth.

"It seems like every time I come to California, you're dedicating a new campus," he said. "If you keep up this pace, President Kerr, you'll have a lot of ceremonies like this between now and November."

APPLAUSE

The President drew polite applause eight times during his 12-minute speech, and the largely Republican audience broke into an ovation when he said:

CdM Man Takes Life By Shooting

A 64-year-old Corona del Mar man, victim of what police term an apparently self-inflicted shooting, died late this morning at Hoag Presbyterian Hospital.

William Doolittle of 700 Jasmine St., who police indicated may have been despondent over ill health, succumbed to a head wound at about 11 a.m.

His wife, Dorothy, had called police at 10:20 a.m. to report the shooting. Investigating officers said Doolittle was sprawled on the steps leading into his garage.

A 32-caliber revolver was found nearby.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — Solid gains by steel issues helped the stock market maintain a higher edge in moderate trading this afternoon. (See quotations, pages 8, 9.)

The steel group apparently benefited from higher steel orders during a period that normally brings a summer lull. Jones and Laughlin advanced 2. Lukens and McLouth Steel were up more than 1 and Copperweld Steel was up nearly 1½. U.S. Steel, Bethlehem and Republic tacked on major fractions.

... other hands per pump. Within moments, the President was on his way, surrounded by his panting, dishevel bodyguards.

The choir, though a sham-bles, then broke out into a somewhat emotional rendering of "America the Beautiful."

Within moments, he was engulfed in a sea of laughing, squealing young humanity. He shook hands all around as flash bulbs popped, motion picture cameras ground away and bodyguards did their best to fend off a stampede.

The entire choir roared with delight. Every face beamed. At that moment, there wasn't a Republican among them.

"He shook my hand! He shook my hand!" a blonde teen-age girl whooped.

"Which hand?" "Oh my gosh! I'll never wash it!"

The reaction wasn't limited to the teen-agers, either.

A plump, red-haired teacher, who was right up front and got her hand wrung vigorously, was ecstatic. Her

Bart's Widow Happy to Get Yacht

Mrs. Sara Bartholomae this week becomes the owner of a 90-foot ketch berthed at Newport Harbor for the tidy sum of $266,500, half of which—less taxes—will wind up in the pocket of her daughter, Sarajane, 18.

She bought the yacht Sea Diamond at a court sale Friday from the estate of her late husband, millionaire yachtsman William Bartholomae, from whom she had been divorced 13 months.

Bartholomae was killed on Jan. 5, 1964, in his $500,000 Balboa Peninsula home. Manola Gallardo, 32, whose sister is married to Bartholomae's brother, Charles, goes on trial next Monday charged with manslaughter in the stabbing of the sportsman.

Manola Trial Postponed One Week

Southland News Service SANTA ANA — The manslaughter trial of Manola Gallardo, 32, was put over today for one week pending a ruling by the State Supreme Court on a petition for a writ of prohibition to halt the proceedings.

Miss Gallardo is accused of fatally knifing William Bartholomae, 70-year-old millionaire yachtsman at his $500,000 Newport Beach home last January.

Dep. District Attorney Cecil Hicks said that the postponement was asked by Paul Caruso, attorney for the Spanish woman, who hoped the high court would rule Wednesday on his petition.

Caruso has insisted there was insufficient evidence produced before the county grand jury to indict Miss Gallardo, whose sister, Carmen, is married to Charles Bartholomae, brother of the slain man.

He has had the original murder indictment reduced to involuntary manslaughter and has won freedom for his client on $5,000 bail.

The ladder finally was used to reach another level of the church from which the men made their way to the ground. Both were wearing brown jail clothing with "Orange County Jail" stencilled across the shirts.

Each new residential unit constructed in the city after passage of the law would be taxed at a rate of $85 each. Replacement construction is exempt unless the number of units is increased. Then the developer is taxed on the increase in units only.

Mesa Trio Faces Trial

Southland News Service SANTA ANA — Three Costa Mesa men charged with attempted murder have been ordered by Superior Judge Robert Gardner to stand trial here Aug. 31.

They are Fernando M. Mendez, 22, of 3113 Platte St.; William J. Snyder, 19, of 877 W. Wilson St., and Frederick G. Loux, 24, of 2448 Santa Ana Ave.

The charges against them stem from what police described as a gang fight early May 2 outside Denny's Coffee Shop, 2773 Harbor Blvd. Two Downey youths suffered gunshot wounds in the brawl.

Hot Time At NB Cafe

Champagne corks popped and hard liquor flowed like wine today when fire broke out in the bar storeroom of the Arches Restaurant on Coast Highway.

The fire started about 10 a.m. and was quickly quelled by several units of the Newport Beach Fire Department. Fire Chief Jan Briscoe said the cause was not immediately determined.

Owner Bob Batchelor said the loss in liquor would probably amount to several hundred dollars. But the main portion of the restaurant was not damaged and will be open for business tonight, Batchelor said.

Southland News Service REDDING — Mrs. Abbie M. Garry, 71, of Seal Beach, died here Sunday night of injuries suffered in a two-car collision south of Mt. Shasta on Highway 99. She was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Vernon, who was slightly hurt.

Two blonde Orange Coast beauties — the past and present Miss Newport Beach — returned to their homes in South Laguna and Costa Mesa over the weekend with first runner-up titles in two separate contests involving nearly 50 of California's most beautiful girls.

Gay Ann MacGillivray, the reigning Miss Laguna Beach, took the number two spot in the Miss California division of the Miss Universe contest at Los Angeles Friday night before a statewide television audience.

Costa Mesa's June Lindeman, representing Newport Beach in the pageant, just missed the finals but made up for it Saturday morning when she was chosen first runner-up in the International Beauty Pageant at Long Beach.

A third contest — the California phase of the Miss America pageant — was conducted Saturday at Santa Cruz with another Orange County girl, Pamela Bennett of Orange, winning first runner-up honors.

Friday night's Miss California winner, blonde Jeanne Venables of Carmichael, was the dean of all contestants at 24. The blue-eyed blonde elementary school teacher stands 5-6, weighs 121 pounds and measures 35-22-35½.

Miss San Diego, Linda Ann Taylor, 18, took the International title at Long Beach Saturday. The 5-8, 127-pound college biology major was a finalist in Friday's Miss California pageant.

Dedication Rite Seen by 15,000

By JOHN GREGORY

They came in mink stoles, blue jeans and bermudas, armed with food baskets, picnic blankets, sun glasses and good spirits.

They saw the President by standing on chairs or tiptoes, looking through binoculars or sitting on Daddy's shoulders.

They left with aching feet, but also with the satisfaction they had seen Orange County's most famous guest.

The University of California, Irvine, dedication ceremonies Saturday attracted 12,000 Republicans and Democrats who sat, stood or lay at a 45-degree angle to catch a glimpse of President Johnson.

Nearly 7,600 early birds staked claims on the bleachers and folding chairs, but there were many who claimed these squatters didn't have the best seats in the house.

"You can't beat it," said a smiling Anaheim resident when asked how he enjoyed his view of the proceedings from a 45-degree bank cut out by bulldozers.

"We're nearly 200 yards away from the stage, but we don't have to strain our necks to see what's going on like the people who are seated," he said, munching on a ham and cheese sandwich.

"Besides, you can hear perfectly back here."

Over 800 watts of sound equipment carried the dedication speeches and entertainment in what was described by one UCI official as the largest sound system ever assembled in Orange County. The project was set up by White House Communications, which follows the President across the nation, and by Sound Products, Inc., of California.

The crowd raised dust, and, as a result, started a steady flow to the free water tanks and soft drink stands. The high point of the afternoon, as far as dust was concerned, occurred when Mr. Johnson's helicopter landed. On this occasion, hats and skirts as

Some of the spectators were not satisfied with shaking hands or getting the autograph only of the President.

A persistent 10-year-old boy circulated through the press section, looking for television newscaster Walter Cronkite. When a writer told him Cronkite was not present, he sighed, handed his pencil and piece of paper to the scribe and said, "You'll do."

Personalities in the crowd ranged all the way from Eiler Larsen—the boisterous, bearded Laguna Beach "Greeter"—to an inconspicuous man squatting beside the stage.

Stanley Train, a Presidential aide, sat amid the potted cypress bushes in front of the platform and monitored Mr. Johnson's speech prompters.

lunge to make our system work in a dangerous and difficult period — to demonstrate to a watching and waiting world that democracy, not communism, represents the way to the future."

The President also drew cheers and squeals of delight from the Orange County High School Honor Choir when, at the close of the dedication ceremonies, he strode to the bleacher seats where the choir was seated and shook hands with as many of the excited youngsters as could reach him.

Secret Service men quickly shouldered their way into the middle of the milling throng to the President's side.

President Johnson was preceded to the speaker's rostrum by Irvine Chancellor Daniel G. Aldrich, Kerr, Edward W. Carter, chairman of the board of regents, and Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

13 Saved From NB Riptides

Thirteen swimmers were rescued over the weekend as riptides continued to prevail off Newport-Balboa beaches, city lifeguards reported today.

Rescue totals were held down by light surf and warm water temperature that hovered near 64 degrees.

According to the count by city guards, more than 127,000 visitors, showed up on Newport's waterfront over the weekend, including 52,000 Saturday and 75,000 Sunday.

Most serious mass rescue occurred Sunday at 3:14 p.m. off Orange Avenue in West Newport when a group of 24 teen-age swimmers from the West Covina Presbyterian Church became trapped in a riptide. Three of the swimmers actually required rescue while another half-dozen were helped to shore by lifeguards Don Burns, Buddy Belshe and Bob Templeton.

Weekend activity brought the season's total of beachgoers to more than 516,000 so far. Newport guards have rescued 92 persons in the still young summer season.

Beach attendance so far this year is about 3,000 ahead of the number who had showed up here during the same opening period of the season last year.

Rescue totals are far down from the 175 recorded at this time during the 1963 season when heavy surf lashed the coastline.

Bal Island Tram Plan Before City

A request for a permit to allow operation of a Balboa Island tram line, similar to the street trolleys used at Laguna's Festival of Arts, comes before the Newport Beach City Council tonight.

Orrin W. Wright Jr., president of the Balboa Island Business Association, has requested a tram permit from the council. The association wants to start the island shuttle service July 1 with a charge of 10 cents a ride.

Donald Sloper, president of the Balboa Island Improvement Association, said his group favors the idea and will bring the proposal before the BIIA's general membership meeting Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the Island Community Methodist Church.

Sloper said the tram systense they did not bow their heads when the convocation was given, nor did they sing during the Alma Mater.

The only incidents reported came from police and first aid headquarters. One elderly lady fainted during the dedication and one lost child was reunited with its parents.

The most anxious moment for the Secret Service came during Mr. Johnson's exit from the stage after the conclusion of the dedication. Well-wishers rushed forward to surround him and many received personal greetings from the President.

Some Newport Harbor High School students were among the lucky ones to receive an extended hand from the Chief Executive.

"It was the biggest thrill of my life," said Kathy Nethery.

Schools Open

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) —Nearly 100,000 high school students in Seoul returned to classes today for the first time since President Chung Hee Park's government closed all schools in the capital June 3 to quell riotous anti-government student demonstrations.

"My administration and the Legislature gave full support to the state's Master Plan for Higher Education, which was adopted by the Legislature in 1960. This plan — now serving as a model for other states — is truly a touchstone of our academic progress."

Carter cited the accomplishments of the university and remarked on the impressive list of its alumni who serve in "the President's own official family."

The list includes Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Central Intelligence Agency Director John A. McCone, Atomic Energy Commission Chairman Glenn T. Seaborg, Chief Justice Earl Warren and Assistant Secretary of State Frederick G. Dutton, who is also a UC regent.

Irvine Chancellor Daniel G. Aldrich, the only man on the platform taller than the President, said the Irvine campus "is not conceived as an isolated academia, but as an institution that plays an active role in the transfer of learning to life."

Dr. Kerr, commenting on the role of the new campus in the development of Orange County, said: "...a university of truly monumental proportions will arise here. It will be the focus of a new center of population which will number, by 1980, more than 100,000 persons. This adds new dimensions to the creation of a new campus. It is symbolic of the central role of the university on modern life, touching and influencing almost every part of the society it serves."

County, said:

President Johnson unveiled the traditional dedication plaque, which will be affixed to a cornerstone of the UCI library.

Before departing, he was given a scroll, tracing the history of the campus site back to 1769.

It was 100 years ago this year, four years before the founding of the University of California, that James Irvine and his three partners purchased Rancho San Joaquin, a Mexican land grant, on which the new Irvine campus is rising.

More low clouds and fog can be expected for tomorrow, along with a slight rise in temperature. There will be very little inland wind, and the day should be sunny and pleasant after the clouds and fog clear around 11 a.m. Maximum temperatures will be in the upper 60's.

Yesterday's high and low temperatures include: Newport Beach, 66-59, Huntington Beach, 76-58, and Costa Mesa, 77-56. Water temperature: 63.

Offshore, winds will be light and variable during the morning hours, becoming westerly 10 to 20 knots in the afternoon. Channel winds as high as 25 knots, with light swell and chop.

SOUTHLAND ROUNDUP
Most of Southern California was warm and sunny today after coastal low clouds lifted at midmorning. The overcast conditions had spread to inland portions before being burned away by rising inland temperatures.

Slightly warmer weather ruled in Los Angeles with a high of about 78, up from yesterday's 73. A low tonight of 58 was forecast. The Air Pollution Control District said there was no eye irritation from smog.

Low clouds at the beaches this morning gave way to a sunny afternoon with a high range of 63 to 68 and water temperature at about 63.

FIVE DAY FORECAST
SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA INTERIOR — No precipitation. Temperatures averaging near or slightly above normal.
COASTAL AND MOUNTAIN AREAS — No precipitation. Temperatures averaging near or slightly below normal.

DAILY FORECAST
SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA — Coastal low clouds spreading inland to lower portions of coastal valleys late tonight and Tuesday morning but otherwise sunny Tuesday. Slightly warmer interior regions.

LOS ANGELES AND VICINITY — Low clouds late tonight and early Tuesday morning but hazy sunshine late morning and afternoon Tuesday. Slightly warmer.

COASTAL VALLEYS — Local fog in lower valleys late tonight and early Tuesday morning but hazy sunshine Tuesday. Slightly warmer.

MOUNTAIN AREAS — Sunny and warmer Tuesday.

INTERIOR AND DESERT REGIONS — Sunny Tuesday, slightly warmer.
SANTA BARBARA AND VICINITY — Fog or low clouds late night and early morning but mostly sunny late morning and afternoon Tuesday. Not much tem-flash flooding reported in portions of Kansas. South central Nebraska was swept by a thunderstorm which carried winds up to 80 miles per hour. In Norfolk, Neb., 1.48 inches of rain was reported in an hour. The low pressure disturbance over Kansas which caused the bad weather was moving in a northeasterly direction.

Another slow moving front extended from the Texas Panhandle through the Kansas low and then eastward across the United States to the mid-Atlantic coast. More thunderstorms and showers erupted along and near the front.

Other portions of the country were mostly clear and sunny except for occasional afternoon and evening thunderstorms from the Rockies into Northern and central portions of the Plains and Mississippi Valley. Upstate New York and New England were relatively cool but hot humid conditions existed southward to the Gulf.

It was sunny but cool in most regions of the Far West.

DAILY PILOT

LE MANS, France — Dan Gurney was looking ahead to this weekend's French Grand Prix after driving what he described as his "most satisfying race of the year" in the grueling 24-hour Le Mans classic which ended Sunday here.

The Costa Mesa speedster, although finishing fourth in the enduro-type event, was crowned as the grand touring champion—thus stopping Ferrari's domination of the division.

Gurney drove an A. C. Ford Cobra owned by Carroll Shelby of Santa Monica. Bob Bondurant, another Southland resident, acted as co-pilot.

"This is a great car," Gurney said moments after the finish Sunday. "It was a terrific pace throughout and I got less than three hours sleep from start to finish, but the car was magnificent and could stand up to another 24 hours."

Bondurant also lauded the Cobra saying, "I got more sleep than Dan, but this was my first Le Mans and I was really tickled with the way our machinery held up. What a race."

Owner Shelby praised both Gurney and Bondurant along with the car. "We had the perfect formula for success in this race," he said. "Next year we'll build a real world beater."

Ferrari prototypes finished 1-2-3 in the race which was marred by the death of three spectators killed by flying debris from a collision in which the drivers escaped injury.

The winning Ferrari, driven by Jean Guichet of France and Nino Vaccarella of Italy, set a speed record — averaging 121.5 miles per hour. Graham Hill and Jo Bonnier finished second with John Surtees and Lorenzo Bandini in third.

Only 25 of the original 55 starters finished the race.

Angels Can Win Crown —Belinsky

LOS ANGELES (AP) — You'll recall that in the last episode of the Bo Belinsky story our harassed hero asked to be excused by the Los Angeles Angels so he could return to the low-pressure life of the minor leagues.

But, as we look in on him today, we find he has sent his ambitions out for alterations.

Milwaukee Next Stop For 'Bums'

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — The Los Angeles Dodgers, saved from four straight losses at Cincinnati by Sandy Koufax' 10th win and Frank Howard's 15th homer, were in appropriate company today.

The Dodgers and Milwaukee Braves, who begin a three-game series tonight, can share the crying towel.

'Feel Wonderful' Admits Bunning

NEW YORK (AP) — The bright-eyed little girl with the blonde curls and the big smile sat behind home plate on a Father's Day double-header at Shea Stadium and listened to the fans talk about Jim Bunning and his quest for a perfect game.

"That's my daddy," 12-year-old Barbara Bunning told any who cared to listen while her 32-year-old father toiled against the New York Mets. Then, after slim Jim fired

The play came on a wicked grounder smashed in the hole between first and second by Jesse Gonder. Taylor made a diving stop of it and threw out the runner from his knees.

"What a play," Bunning shouted. "What a play that Taylor made."

Bunning said that was when he sensed that the masterpiece was within reach. "I told him to dive for every-

McKinley Breaks Rules

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Officials of the Wimbledon Tennis Tournament considered today whether to bar Chuck McKinley from playing — just as he was about to start the defense of his title.

The American Davis Cup star from San Antonio, Tex., was in trouble over a feature advertised for next week's Sunday Times. Competitors are forbidden to write for newspapers during the two weeks of the tournament, which begins today.

The Times said Sunday that it will print a discussion between McKinley, Jack Kramer and Gardner Mulloy on brightening the game and taming the big serve.

Thomas Lejus, 25-year-old tennis champion of the Soviet Union, led the Russian contingent in their strongest assault on the Wimbledon Championships today.

The fair-haired Estonian was the talk of British tennis fans as the championships promoted by the All-England Club got under way.

He staged a pre-Wimbledon sensation by gaining the final round of the London Queen's club last week. Roy Emerson of Australia, 3-1 favorite for the Wimbledon title, beat him 12-10, 6-4 in the final last Saturday after a hard struggle.

Lejus' success at the Queen's Club made it clear that the Russians are now a tennis power with which to be reckoned.

almost a clinch to sign with the Angels ... The thinking around the home state of the two-time Big Ten batting champion is that the only real opposition to the Angels will come from the Yankees ... At that, a bidding contest between Gene Autry and the Yankees figures to be interesting.

DEPT. OF HO HUM. ... Add Dodger coach Leo Durocher to the list of people who think Maury Wills is a better all-around shortstop than Jim Fregosi ... This will be continued at such time as Leo thinks of a reason. Manager Bobby Bragan says the Milwaukee Braves are not interested in signing Rick Reichardt ... They were very interested until they heard the price which is now said to be at least $200,000.

DEPT. OF ONE MAN'S OPINION. ... Dodger scout Lefty Phillips is dead right when he says baseball's new rule, which prohibits major league teams from spreading bonus payments over a period of years, is the worst legislation to come along in years ... "It hurts the player," Lefty points out, "and it hurts the club." ... It does not hurt the U.S. Treasury which gets most

Last week, during the Braves' visit here, Davidson entered the Dodger Stadium press box wearing dark glasses. Since it was a night game, a writer asked, "What happened Don? Somebody punch you in the eye?" "No," Donald replied. "I just don't want anybody to recognize me."

DEPT. OF ISN'T IT ABOUT TIME? ... That somebody said what ever happened to the sport of tennis. That the New York Mets protect their remarkable attendance by making sure the team never becomes a winner. That, if the tip sheets sold near Hollywood Park are so good, the guys who make them up explained why they have to bother. That baseball found more like Sandy Koufax. That the beer strike ended ... Walter O'Malley is feeling the pinch.

wants to pitch in the World Series.

Sounds like good, clear thinking — until he suggests he might do it this year with the Angels, whose chances of getting into the World Series have been overlooked by millions.

Bo announced his switch in plans Sunday after he ran his winning streak to three games and the Angels ran theirs to five by beating Cleveland for the seventh consecutive time, 4-1.

"We're not looking for the first division now," Belinsky said. "We're looking for the pennant."

"We've got just as good a pitching staff as anybody in the league."

"If we don't have any injuries, I honestly think we can match all the others man for man. The only team we have to worry about is the Yankees."

"If we look to finish fourth, or third, we're just defeating ourselves. If we're just going to play to stay ahead of teams like Washington and Kansas City, we're not going to win. We've got to make statements like we're going for the pennant. Think positively."

"Great things are not done by great people. Great things are done by average people. That's a saying."

Tonight, in the opener of a three-game series with Washington, the Angels will start righthander Barry Latman, 2-5, against southpaw Don Rudolph, 1-0.

PITCHING — Jim Bunning, Philadelphia, pitched a perfect game, retiring all 27 batters he faced in the Phillies' 6-0 victory over the New York Mets in the first game of a doubleheader. Bunning became the first pitcher in modern baseball to pitch winning no-hitters in both the National and American Leagues and the first in 42 years to hurl a perfect game in regular season play and win.

BATTING — Dick Stuart, Boston, belted four hits and drove in four runs, three on a homer, as the Red Sox defeated Baltimore 9-6. The loss helped knock the Orioles out of first place in the American League.

4-2 in the first game of a doubleheader, but dropped the second game 2-1 for their 10th defeat in 12 meetings with the Reds this season. The Dodgers thus slipped back to eighth place in the standings.

But while the Dodgers were slipping, the Braves were falling to ninth place.

Phil Orega, 3-2, was expected to test his elbow in a start against the Braves tonight. The Braves will throw Bob Sadowski against Los Angeles.

Fregosi Picked On Star Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Not a single 1963 starter returned to the American League All-Star opening line-up which will face the National League's best on July 7 at Shea Stadium, in New York.

Three New York Yankees, three Minnesota Twins and one each from the Los Angeles Angels and Baltimore Orioles made up the starting team.

Jim Fregosi, who beat out Baltimore's Luis Aparicio for the shortstop berth, 161 votes to 72, was the Angels' representative.

way through the crowd to the playing field. To the delight of photographers Barbara gave her beaming father a big kiss. Bunning beamed even more. "It's a wonderful feeling," the Philadelphia right-hander said after the 6-0 victory. "I still can't believe it. I feel wonderful, just wonderful."

"He had everything," catcher Gus Triandos said. "Good fast ball, good slider, good curve. His curve was his best pitch. Most of his strikeouts, maybe all of them, came on the curve."

Bunning, who also pitched a no-hitter in the American League as a member of the Detroit Tigers, struck out 10 Mets in his Sunday masterpiece. He went to a 3-2 count on only two batters but had his pitching gem preserved by a great play by second baseman Tony Taylor in the fifth.

Venturi's Vultures Finally Chased Away

WASHINGTON (AP) — Venturi's vultures have been chased away. Now what about Jack's gremlins?

Will they follow him to Scotland?

Ken Venturi, who won the U.S. Open Golf Championship in suffocating heat and pressure, is the fellow who got rid of his companions.

"I didn't have anything like Arnie's Army following me around the last few years," Venturi said, "but I had a gang that was just as persistent. I called them Venturi's vultures."

Then, after he had convinced himself and everyone else that he would never pay off on his early promise, Venturi plodded to the Open title the hard way — in the lead for the final nine holes, and playing in front of his pursuers.

He finished with 66 and 70 for 278, the second best score ever shot in the Open.

And now, the golf question is: Can Jack Nicklaus, the Ohio Golden Bear, snap out of the slump that has dogged him of late?

Of course, there are many golfers who would love to have Nicklaus' troubles. Big Jack is No.1 on the money list, has won two tour tournaments this year, and is an automatic cofavorite with Arnold Palmer in any tournament he enters.

FOURTH VICTORY

7-11 Proves Lucky

Potent Pirates Batter 4th Foe

By CHRIS YOUNG

That lucky old combination of 7-11 sprung up for Costa Mesa's Pirates Sunday afternoon at Orange Coast College.

The Bucs slammed seven hits, including home runs by Jim Newkirk and Barry Wallace, to score 11 times and chalk up their fourth American (home) League victory without a loss.

Sunday's win, also righthander Newkirk's fourth, was at the expense of Pasadena's Dons, 11-0.

It was a tight pitchers' duel until Ward's Pirates notched seven runs on four hits in the sixth inning to break up a 1-0 game.

ROOF COLLAPSES

Starting Pasadena pitcher Larry Chaisson held the Buc Bombers to two singles and the lone tally before the roof fell in.

Chaisson, besides being stingy when it came to base knocks, had struck out 11 in five innings and gotten the first man in the sixth on a routine ground ball.

Second baseman Gary Pickens got things rolling with a long double to centerfield. Steve Johnson immediately drove in Pickens with another two-bagger.

Johnson was wild-pitched to third as John Weber drew a base on balls. Newkirk then stepped to the plate having struck out the first two times at bat.

The tall ex-OCC star, who had only one hit in six previous appearances, ripped a 340-foot shot over the left field wall to drive in Johnson and Weber for the Pirates' fourth, fifth and sixth runs on the contest.

Wallace sent a line drive directly at the left fielder (who couldn't handle it), racing to third base on the three-base error. Playing coach Bob Wetzel followed with a single to score Wallace. Chaisson retired, his duel lost.

Infielder Eddie Singleton cued off the end of his bat and the catcher misplayed it, Wetzel moving to second and Singleton camping at first.

First baseman Jon Hockenberry, batting in the cleanup spot, drew a walk to load the bases with one out. Gary Davis, who opened the inning by grounding out third to first, had the dubious honor of making his second out of the frame popping up to the third baseman.

David Aboud, batting for Pickens, hit a normal grounder to the second baseman who booted it, allowing both Wetzel and the speedy Singleton to score. Johnson then walked to load the sacks a second time, but Weber, the 13th man to the plate, hit a shot to the rightfielder for the last out.

Wallace, the second batter of the seventh frame, slammed a 320-foot roundtripper down the right field line to score Newkirk who had walked. Wallace, who is a switch hitter, was making his first appearance of the day left-handed.

Newport, CM

Mackers In Action Tonight

Both Newport Beach and Costa Mesa entries in the Orange County Connie Mack League resume baseball action tonight at 6 o'clock.

Coach Jim Newkirk's unbeaten Newport squad travels to Fullerton and the Mesa Connie Mackers of Bob Wigmore seek their first win of the season, visiting Magnolia of Anaheim.

Newport owns a 2-0 record, having knocked off Costa Mesa and Magnolia by identical 4-3 scores. Costa Mesa dropped its second contest of the season against Anaheim, 5-4, Friday night at TeWinkle Park.

MOUND CHOICES

Either Terry Thompson or Mike Price will get the nod for mound duty tonight for the Mesans while lefty Todd Hess or Bill Holden will probably pitch for Newport.

Righthander Price, who had the Anaheim team under control the first six innings, gave up a two-run home run in the seventh frame to take the loss.

After Anaheim scored twice in the first inning, Costa Mesa came back with a run in the second. Tom Scott singled, stole second and advanced to third on an error by the catcher.

Bob Pippin then laid down a perfect sacrifice bunt to score Scott.

MESA LEADS

Costa Mesa tallied twice in the fourth to take the lead, 3-2. Terry Thompson singled, stole second and scored on a one-baser by Ted Parks.

Parks then pilfered second base and tallied on a single by Joe Wigmore. Anaheim scored its third run of the contest in the fifth inning, but Costa Mesa came right back with a tally of its own in the bottom of the frame to retake the lead.

EAST LANSING, Mich. — Southern Cal's Dennis Ralston won his second straight NCAA Tennis Championship, beating Northwestern's Marty Riessen 6-4, 6-4, 6-1 and led the Trojans to their third straight team title.

DEL MAR — Jockey Ralph Neves, who ranks sixth on the all-time list of races won, today announced his retirement from racing.

Neves, 45, said he will devote his time to his restaurant business in Pasadena and to property interests.

ITHACA, N.Y.—California's champion eight-man crew enjoyed the hospitality today of the ex-champions, Cornell, for Olympic Trials preparations.

Coach Jim Lemmon said his crew planned to continue using the unorthodox shovel or tulip-shaped oars which earned them a strong victory in the 62nd Intercollegiate Rowing Association (IRA) Regatta Saturday at Onondaga Lake in Syracuse.

NORWALK — Muscular Hal Connolly still is the man to beat in the hammer throw. Connolly, who set the world record of 231 feet, 10 inches two years ago, achieved the best mark in the world this year Saturday by flinging the 16-pound hammer 227 feet, 2 inches.

3 Classes Conduct Trials

Keen competition was the highlight of elimination races in three national and international classes conducted Sunday by Newport Harbor Yacht Club.

Don Edler tillered his Star Class sloop, Big Daddy, to a one-point victory over Skip Allan's Shadow. Third was Seymour Beek's Savage.

In the PC eliminations for the national championship regatta, Saint Cicero's Happy Days, NYC, and Jack Toon's Patsy Ann, BYC, are tied for first place. In third place is Morrie Kirk's Slipstick, BYC. John Pearcy's Thermos, NHYC, and Bob Woodward's Joy III, BYC, are tied for fourth.

Rascal, skippered by Keith Lumpkin, NHYC, is leading the Luders-16 fleet. A tie for second place exists between Rod Lippold's Zephyr, NHYC, and Greg Varley's Spook, SSSC.

Final Star elimination series will be held next weekend and the top three in the fleet will be eligible to compete in the Blue Star Regatta, district championship, to be held at NHYC in July.

LIYC Man Scores High

Dick Falkard of King Harbor Yacht Club, and Cal Preston, Lido Isle Yacht Club, were high scorers Sunday in the windup of the Southern California Yachting Association, quarter-finals in the 1964 Mallory Cup eliminations.

The five race series was sailed at KHYC, Redondo Beach, in Schock-25 sloops. Six teams from SCYA-affiliated yacht clubs were in competition.

Falkard scored 29 points and Preston 26½. The two are now eligible to compete in the Mallory Cup semi-finals at Richmond Yacht Club, San Francisco.

Dare Home First, But— Small Boats Win Stewart Honors

Walter Beck's 50-foot sloop, Dare, Los Angeles Yacht Club, ghosted home ahead of the fleet in LAYC's Stewart Trophy Race around Catalina Island Sunday, but was unable to save her time for corrected time honors.

The over all handicap winner was Norman Switzer's Cal-28, Zoo II, which also topped the Class D fleet. Second over all was Scott Allan of Newport Harbor Yacht Club in the Cal-30, Cochise, and third was Cliff Tucker's L-36, Papoose, from California Cruising Club.

The 61-mile circumnavigation of the island was slow from start to finish. The start was at 1 p.m. from LAYC, and by midafternoon the fleet had overhauled the seven boats in the Tahiti race which had started a half-hour earlier from Point Fermin.

A light westerly that gave promise of freshening, died completely on the backside of Catalina Island and the fleet congregated at east end for what amounted to a new start.

Dare's elapsed time was 19 hours, 53 minutes, not nearly fast enough to save her time over the Class D boats.

When the handicaps were computed the class results lined up this way:

CLASS A—Dare, Walter Beck, LAYC; Westward (L-50), Willard Bell, LAYC; Landfall (56-foot sloop), Vern and Don Edler, NHYC.

CLASS B—Persephone (Cal-40), George Griffith, LAYC; Psyche, Don Salisbury, LAYC; Glory, (42-foot Yawl), Frank Simpson III, NHYC.

CLASS C—Papoose, Cliff Tucker, CCC; Vela (K-40), Riley & MacDonald, LIYC; Meiling (L-36), Bob Young, CBYC.

CLASS D—Zoo II; Norman Switzer, LAYC; Cochise (Cal-30), Scott Allan, NHYC; (Cal-30), Merle Beaupre, Windward YC.

Tahiti Pack Led By Ticonderoga

By ALMON LOCKABEY
Boating Editor

Ticonderoga, Bob Johnson's powerful 72-foot ketch, from Portland Yacht Club, sailed by a crew of Newport sailors, was holding onto an early lead Sunday night in the 3,571-mile Los Angeles-to-Tahiti yacht race.

Big Ti reported her position only about 100 miles from Los Angeles on a southerly course that put her off San Diego.

A freshening nor'westerly finally started the seven-boat fleet moving Sunday after an extremely slow start that was delayed a half-hour Saturday.

The yachts drifted across the starting line off Point Fermin Saturday and spent the first few hours searching out wind ruffles along the beach toward Point Vicente.

By midafternoon, the 40-boat Stewart Trophy Race fleet had caught and passed them on the slow beat to the west end of Catalina Island.

Bad-Luck Plagues NB Legion Nine

If coach Ralph Blankenship's Newport Beach American Legion baseball team had any luck at all they'd be on top of the league.

At least that's how Blankenship put it after his squad threw away a "sure" victory over Rancho Alamitos, 8-6, Saturday and then came back with a surprising 7-5 upset of Fullerton Sunday at Corona del Mar High School. Newport now has three wins and six losses.

Righthander Terry Thompson, victim of two errors in the ninth inning against Rancho, came back Sunday to post a much-needed win for the Newport team.

Trailing in Sunday's tilt, 5-3, going into the sixth inning, Newport tallied three times on only one hit to take the lead, 6-5, and then scored an insurance run in the eighth.
